To a Spirit and a Hope

THE fiftieth issue of Spice is dedicated, with respect and humility, to the Spirit of Norristown High School. We the publishers of this annual, see this spirit as a force, lasting far beyond any spontaneous expressions of emotion. As men and women look back, they realize that their High School helped to set for them the pattern in which their lives are cast. This intangible spirit makes them experience a strangely mixed feeling when an old school is torn down; sad, because the old walls and halls have seen and heard their schooldays, but glad because those who follow them will have the newer and the better. This is the spirit which deeply believes, heart and soul, in the future, holding the present as a preparation—and keeping that view throughout the years. This is the true Spirit of Norristown High School which has carried us to enviable achievements in the past.

This Spice is dedicated to the Hope that in the coming half century each issue will see improvements through a deeper, truer High School Spirit; and by this spirit not only schools but also government and national and international affairs will profit materially, creating a greater and more helpful contribution to mankind.

Foreword

IN this, the fiftieth year of the publication of Spice, we pause for a brief recital of history concerning the book. The initial issue, edited by J. Clarence Emery, was published in June 1896. The first cover, which we have reproduced in slightly reduced size on our title and division pages, set a style which was retained practically unchanged for all issues until 1903. Then the desires of individual staffs began to express themselves in varying cover designs.

In its early period Spice was purely a monthly, literary magazine. It was the literary outlet of the school and paid relatively little attention to athletic activities.

Beginning in 1925 the idea of the publication began to change, and the resulting book became larger, more of a record book, and published less often. By 1931 it was admittedly a year book, or rather, "class book," since it appeared twice a year, as did commencement. Since then it has appeared in its present annual form as a record of the persons and the activities of the senior class.

The retrospect is pleasant. It shows adaptibility and achievement. Our hope is that the coming half century will be equally pleasant to those who create and then look back upon the future editions of Spice.

To the Class of 1945

Greetings!

When the sounds of war have passed away, America must help to create a world in which there shall be equality of opportunity and liberty for every race and for every people.

In that tremendously important work the voice of youth will be heard, whether they speak or are silent. Never before have there been young men and women who are so well fitted by nature and trained by design to meet this great challenge.

You go out to become a part of that body of youth of our land. Have you the self-reliance, the courage, the qualities of leadership and the vision to support the movement that will bring a new era of peace and dignity to all mankind?

Sincerely,

Emma E. Christian.

Students,

Present and personal histories are recorded for you in this your book. They have been so recorded in one form or another for the past half century.

Anniversaries are interesting provided one looks upon them only as a boundary of the past. If achievement in any field is to continue, time needs to lay down other mileposts of the same kind in the future. One thinker once defined space this way—Go, said he, to the end of space and there put a boundary. What have you on the other side of the fence?—Achievement needs to be like that.

The past is something which we know, and from which we can profit if we are wise enough. In the present we mark our boundary of the past. But "on the other side of the fence" lies the future—fill it with achievements, so that the blundering, bloody present will be only an ugly misshapen milepost.

Man can live in peace, with cooperation and harmony. Help to create that world.

Senior Activities

THE first appearance of the class of '45 as seniors came during the fall in the form of a delightful and hilarious play. "Best Foot Forward" not only provided entertainment for everyone who saw it but also established a fine reputation for its participants. Every one enjoyed the living picture of Winsocki and its student body; the class lived up to all expectations of the audience.

Later in the year the senior assembly, a "Gay Nineties" review, gave further evidence of a talented class. A novel idea, a clever script, and abundant talent combined to form a fine program. The colorful costumes and carefully prepared scenery took a great deal of work, but the result gave the committee much satisfaction, and the audience a pleasant hour.

Firmly behind all these activities and many more stood the class congress with Mrs. Sarah H. Smith, the sponsor. An efficiently organized body is necessary to every successful undertaking and so it was with the class of '45. Its officers, elected in the junior year, were: Max Coy, president; Floy Lewis, vice president; Claire Woehling, secretary; and Fred Sharp, treasurer. These capable officers faced every problem squarely and supervised each undertaking.

Solving the problems of food and fuel scarcities, which prevented the preceeding senior class from having its banquet, the class of '45 held the annual senior event in fine style. The gay affair was held on March 2nd at the City Hall with a large attendance. Class charms, which to every senior will in years to come suggest happy memories, were presented by Mrs. Smith during the course of the evening.

The success of all these projects was gained by the willingness with which each senior performed the necessary tasks. Each one contributed his share in the responsibilities of the class and so deserves acknowledgement for the part he played in making his class a fine one.

The Senior Class Play

THE Senior Class play, BEST FOOT FORWARD, was presented on November third and fourth to record breaking crowds, which packed the spacious auditorium of Norristown Senior High School.

The three acts of John Cecil Holm's hilarious comedy took place at Winsocki Boys' School, where the boys were awaiting the arrival of their dates for the Fall Prom.

When a glamorous movie star arrived, as the date of Bud Hooper, the situation became very involved, but with the assistance and hinderance of his friends and the faculty, Bud's problems were finally solved.

The cast under the capable direction of Mr. Addison J. Allen presented an excellent show. Various committees organized from the members of the Senior Class assisted in making the play a great success.

Class of '46

THE Class of 1946 undertook its first real task in the sale of school rings and pins early in the junior year. Its competent congress, elected earlier, handled the sale and aided in making it successful.

Mrs. Alfred T. Rundle supplied the sponsorship necessary to make the Class of '46 a strong one. The stationery sale proved to be both profitable and successful for the class, due to the energy and zeal with which the Juniors conducted it.

With work spread before them at every turn the Juniors discovered capable and efficient officers when they chose Robert Atkinson, president; Patricia Hoxworth, vice president; Jean Abbott, secretary; and Richard Hinterleiter, treasurer.

The entertaining assembly, presented by the class in February, displayed the ability of the Juniors to function as a well organized group.

After this series of achievements the Juniors were rewarded by the annual prom. As the most outstanding social function of the junior year, the prom, provided a lovely evening for everyone.

With its junior year over, the class looks forward to a successful and memorable year as distinguished members of the Class of '46.

Class of '47

SEPTEMBER '44 presented to the sophomores individually a problem of readjustment. Assisted by the faculty and fellow students the new students soon became acquainted with high school life, and before long they became a part of the school activities.

Latent leadership was brought to light when the Sophomore Congress was chosen late in February. At that time the genial Mr. Addison J. Allen was chosen as sponsor of the class of '47.

From the few introductory meetings that have been held, everyone concerned is confident that as projects and problems are seen, the sophomores will meet and solve them by effective group cooperation.

Student Council

THIS year, as in years gone by, the Student Council of Norristown High School has done all in its power to promote worthy school activities and to make the school better than before. With representatives from each home room, headed by Oliver Smith, president, and Mr. William Spangler, faculty advisor, the Council succeeded in its numerous projects. The ability of the students to govern themselves has been proven by the Council's success. One such project is the purchase of a book, which is kept on a stand built by the Vocational department, in which servicemen are asked to sign their names, branch, and write any message they chose.

For the second time an industrious, worth while committee was formed by representatives of Student Council, the Senior Class, the Vocational Society, Spice, Hi-Eye, and the Traffic Squad to discuss and solve problems that came up concerning the school spirit and activities. This committee, with a different organization as chairman each time, was especially successful in arranging and holding dances every month for the enjoyment of the entire student body. Another addition to the enjoyment of life sponsored by the Council is the acquisition of a library of popular records to be used after basketball games and at dances.

The Student-Faculty Committee, which consists of an equal number of teachers and Council representatives, took charge of the problems affecting both students and faculty. The Publicity, Social, Welfare, Building and Grounds Committees of the Council all carried out their duties under the direction of their chairmen. The Building Committee organized a group to help relieve the shortage of janitors by helping to clean up the halls during free periods.

The able officers of Student Council during the first semester were: Oliver Smith, president; Donald Fargo, Vice president; Marie Martino, secretary; Pierce Davis, treasurer; and Robert White, sergeant-at-arms. The president, secretary and sergeant-at-arms succeeded themselves in the second semester. Jack Long and Charles Santangelo were elected vice president and treasurer respectively.

Vocational Society

THE Vocational Society consists of the outstanding boys of the Vocational Department. The memberships are given to the students who qualify by the society and are approved by the faculty of the Vocational Department. The Vocational Society has upheld its principles, Loyalty, Leadership, Industry and Integrity, and has been an outstanding organization in the school.

The Vocational Society sponsored the Hallowe'en Dance; it was very successful having an attendance of over five hundred. The assembly given by the Vocational Society, on November 9 was both interesting and entertaining. Eric Wilkinson, organist for station WIBG entertained the student body.

The new sponsor for the society was Mr. Wayne Henry who is replacing Mr. Carl Hedstrom. The officers for the 1944-45 year were William Garrett, President; George Kulp, Vice President; Albert Carfagno, Recording Secretary; George Hansberry, Corresponding Secretary; Ira Robbins, Treasurer; George Lare, Chaplin; and Leroy Fitzgerald, Historian.

These boys, who are loyal members of the Vocational Society will be the skilled artisans of tomorrow.

National Honor Society

EACH year, in the graduating class of a high school, certain students distinguish themselves as being students of above-average rank in both scholastic and social achievements. From these students the members of the National Honor Society are chosen.

The society has as its goal the improvement of American youth in respect to its leadership and recognition of the merit of students. The Chapter in Norristown High School functions under the capable supervision of Miss Dorothy E. Berger.

After the faculty has chosen the members, officers must be chosen. This year's competent officers were: President, R. Max Coy; vice president, Marie Martino; secretary, Teresa Valerio. These students are also chosen by the faculty as being best able to represent the true spirit and meaning of education. A fitting climax to all industriously planned high school educations is the election of a student to the National Honor Society.

With such students ever present to cast their influence upon the student body as a whole, high school finds its deeper meaning.

Spice

THIS issue of Spice marks fifty years of progress from a small monthly magazine to a book which depicts the activities of an entire school year. With this theme in mind this year's Spice staff has capably portrayed this progress throughout the book by contrast and comparison. This Anniversary number was under the new sponsorship of Mr. Edwin Kephart. The Spice Executive Council was composed of Frederick Ruccius, editor-in-chief; Shirley Schweiker, art editor; Jack Long, photography editor; Teresa Valerio, Senior activities editor, Claire Woehling, sports and activities editor.

Backed by an efficient business staff under the direction of Mr. Harold K. Scheirer, Spice can boast of a sound financial basis. Mr. Scheirer was assisted by the Business manager, Genevieve White and Circulation manager, Caroline Scheirer.

In order to promote Spice sales during its campaign, a Kay Kyser show was presented to the students in an assembly program on January 19.

Hi-Eye

WITHOUT Hi-Eye, the lives and loves of N. H. S. would not be complete or known. Its purpose is to spread general information about the students and their teachers and to announce future activities and sports. This year Hi-Eye is completing seventeen successful years of publication, all characterized by improvement. Constance Ventura leads the staff of Hi-Eye as a very capable editor-in-chief and is supported by a group consisting of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Serving on this staff gives interested students the chance to see just what the field of journalism can involve. Mr. Richard Kistler is the faculty advisor of Hi-Eye and is deservant of all the praise given to him. Mr. Harold Scheirer and Mr. William Spangler with the student business manager Janet Cloud and their staff complete a very fine organization. This year is one of the busiest years for Hi-Eye. Along with meeting deadlines every issue and keeping posted on Norristown High School's numerous war activities, they have added something else to bring up Hi-Eye standards. A copy of Hi-Eye is sent to all the service-men who are ex-students of N. H. S. in order to acquaint them with the activities at their alma-mater.

A Cappella Choir

ALWAYS making life brighter by their combined voices are the members of the A Cappella Choir, which is capably led by Miss Mary A. Downey. Examples of the choir's ability were displayed in the annual Christmas Pageant. The spring festival, in which the boys' and girls' chorus participated, combined beauty and harmony to form a colorful presentation. Other public demonstrations were given throughout the year with equal success. Time has helped to achieve a fine record in musical competitions of this district. They have received the highest honors for several years in the State Cultural Olympics held at the University of Pennsylvania. This year the choir has again been presented with top honors, not only by professional judges, but also by the public in general. The choir will complete this successful year by contributing its talents to the impressive Commencement and Baccalaureate exercises.

Combined Chorus

THE combined chorus is a recent organization consisting of the boys' and girls' chorus. Each of these meet twice a week separately and once a week combined. This chorus, under the direction of Miss Mary A. Downey, consists of those students who find pleasure in music and have aspirations toward belonging to the A Cappella Choir. The members of the chorus have the preference when the choir is being selected.

The chorus is an extra curricular subject. The boys and girls participated in various presentations throughout the year. They displayed their ability in the colorful annual Christmas pageant and Spring festival. On some occasions certain students are chosen to sing in special ensembles at the various business mens' clubs and other such organizations, proving their popularity in the community.

Library Staff

THROUGH the capable supervision of Miss Rhoda E. Bowers, her assistant, Miss Helen Bomberger, and a most competent staff, the library has become a place held high in the respect of N. H. S. students. The library contains numerous books of all types, and it fulfills its objective by increasing the enjoyment of reading throughout the student body.

Whether to help you find a suitable book report, or to locate some research work for you, the library staff is always there to help you in every way possible. The members of the staff are called upon to answer anything pertaining to the library and to its books, thus they serve as a great benefactor in making the library what it is today.

Traffic

"TO get the most students to the right place, at the right time, with the least amount of effort and confusion" is the purpose of the traffic club. To solve this problem a staff of vigilant young officers were faithfully on duty in the halls of Norristown High School between classes, in the auditorium during assemblies and in the cafeteria during the busy lunch hours.

The traffic squad previously sponsored by Mr. Elmer C. Hoffman is now supervised by Mr. John L. Schuler. Burton Sacks was Chief during the first semester; Albert Tyler succeeded him as Chief for the second semester. Aiding these leaders to carry on their momentous tasks were Assistant-Chiefs Joseph Epifano and Captains Robert Barry, Robert Campitell, Walter Czarnecki, Ronald Keith, Leonard Jeffers and Albert Tyler.

The traffic club has done its work well. They deserve our sincere cooperation and undivided support. Probably, in the future, some of these officers will be our leaders in the community.

Band

THE school band led the N. H. S. rooters through the football season of '44, supporting the team with snappy marches, school songs, and cheers.

Added attractions this year were Edward Kromer, the tall, talented Drum-Major, and the four Drum-Majorettes, who fascinated the spectators with their synchronized baton-twirling.

For the first time this year members of the band appeared as a unit at basketball games. Although small in number, the groups played with an enthusiasm which was contagious.

Under the direction of Mr. Damon Holton the band gave an assembly program for the school. In the spring the band, combined with the orchestra presented to the public the annual Spring Festival.

The band did not participate in public parades this year, their only outside activity being a concert presented to 1000 patients at the State Hospital on January 22.

Although the N. H. S. band won the title of State Champions in 1942, they were unable to compete for this title this year because of war conditions. Of the seventy-four members of the present band, at least ten were freshmen members of the band when it won the Championship. However, the talanted groups which composed the band this year receives "Championship" rating from all who have been fortunate to hear it play.

Orchestra

THE thirty-eight students who composed the orchestra this year combined their talents to achieve a very successful season. From their first appearance in the school assembly programs until they closed their instrument cases in the spring, the orchestra has presented a pleasing repertory of musical numbers.

Mr. Damon Holton developed the abilities of each member of the orchestra by practices held individually, in instrumental groups, and in combined orchestral rehearsals.

The Spring Festival was the only public appearance of the orchestra, although many people would have enjoyed hearing this entertaining musical group more often.

War Activities

AS another year has gone by and more of our boys are paying the supreme sacrifice to hasten the end of the war we, at the home front, are anxious and happy to do our part.

With the entire student body of high school geared to meet the war effort, the response of the different service clubs, student council, and the sale of bonds and stamps have proved a great success.

Under the supervision of Miss Clemmer, the four Red Cross clubs led by Miss Duckers and Miss Leister, Mrs. Graham's Patriotic Service Club, and Mrs. Barker's art classes contributed to this worthy cause. These clubs worked on afghans, made tray covers, and collected magazines. Some homerooms bought magazines to aid in this cause. Twenty-four one year magazine subscriptions were sent to the boys in the Philadelphia area who couldn't get home for Christmas. One homeroom collected articles and made up fifty gift boxes. The Patriotic Service Club also collected playing cards and games for the different service clubs and hospitals. It furnished friendship boxes for the children in foreign lands, made cartoon books, scrap books, and puzzle books for various hospitals. Nine hundred Christmas cards were collected for the boys at Valley Forge General Hospital to send to their friends.

Last year rifle classes were organized under the auspices of the Montgomery County Fish and Game Association. Under the direction of Mr. John Sutch and the classroom leadership of Mr. Leonard Rothermel the classes learned how to handle rifles for war and sport. The team has competed in the National Match for the first time this year.

During the sixth war loan we sold bonds amounting to $146,857.75. We have sold $151,207.50 in bonds and $2,398.70 in stamps from October 1, 1944 to January 23, 1945.

We are proud of these accomplishments for the year, but we are not satisfied to cease such activities until victory is attained.

Football

COACHES Shellenberger and Kost called for football candidates to come to the first practice on August 25. Forty-four boys responded, four of whom were lettermen from the previous year. These four lettermen were Jack Fell, Charles Hood, Ralph Smith, and Pierce Davis.

On August 27 forty boys went to Camp Oakleigh in Chester county for pre-season training. During the training period at the camp, several players were injured seriously enough to keep them from playing for part of the season.

The team showed fine style in their first game, played under the lights on Friday, September 22, by defeating Bridgeport. The rest of the season was not so successful as the first game, with Norristown losing more games than it won, but showing fine spirit all the way.

The spirit was carried to the stands by Mr. Campbell's fine cheerleading squad. The cheerleading squad was enlarged by many sophomores who should be an asset to the squad in future years.

Cross Country

THE 1944 Cross Country team was under the direction of Mr. Parke Ulrich, who coached the team for the first time in the absence of its original coach, Carl Hedstrom. The Eagle harriers had a very successful season winning five of the six scheduled meets.

Our runners defeated Haverford and also took Birdsboro in stride. Our only defeat was by Upper Darby by a very close margin. Chester was then defeated by N. H. S., and as the Blue and White runners met Roxsboro High, we won by a perfect score of 15-40. In the last meet with Springfield the Eagles were victorious with a 20-35 score. Our team placed second in the District Meet but lost to superior runners in the final State Meet.

Hockey

ALTHOUGH the Eaglettes lacked the necessary fight for an undefeated team, their field play was outstanding.

In their initial encounter the girls traveled to Lower Merion to lose to them 3-1. For the second game the Eaglettes again traveled to foreign soil but lacked the spirit to overcome Spring City, being defeated 2-0. Abington invaded our own field withdrawing with a 3-0 victory. The Eaglettes tied the Springfield game with a score of 1-1. For the final game the team defeated Upper Darby, 4-2. The J. V.'s played the same brilliant hockey, and the scoreboard showed two wins and three losses. Kitty June Stoops and Floy Lewis were the elected co-captains of the season.

We are looking forward to an improvement in the Eaglettes' scoring, paralleling the improvement in their playing under Miss Dorothy Yanisch's capable coaching.

Girls' Basketball

WITH several experienced players returning from last year, the Girls' Basketball team had a good season. They came through after a difficult eight game schedule with six wins and two loses. The high scorer for the season, Kitty June Stoops, was ably supported by her hard-working teammates. A spirit of cooperation and sportsmanship was incorporated at all games—win or lose.

The girls won their first five games and then lost to a hard-fighting Radnor team. They picked up a pleasing score in the game with Lansdale but lost to Lower Merion, the final game.

Coach Dorothy Yanisch foresees an equally successful team next year made up of the promising Jayvees and those who return to win their letter.

Boys' Basketball

THE 1944-45 team made an admirable showing concluding the spectacular season with a second place tie with Lower Merion in the Suburban I. The season of only six losses out of seventeen games was a really successful one, in which the Eagle five did the remarkable feat of nine victories in ten home games, something one may well cheer over. Much credit is due to Coach Arthur Herr in producing a precision team.

The season reached its peak when our team played the much advertised Lower Merion team. In a thrill-packed game, with inspired play by both sides, Norristown's superiority was proved in a 26-25 win.

Some of the finest scrimmage was an outstanding feature of the veteran team in this year's season. Oliver Smith, Eagle forward, won first honors in being high scorer in Suburban I. The team had a fighting spirit, instilled into them by their Captain Max Coy, because of his commendable leadership and natural ability.

The junior varsity, with many talented under classmen for future varsity material, made a fine showing by capturing many of the preliminary encounters.

Girls' Swimming

DELVING into the sport of swimming we find that Mrs. Smith's Acquacade performance was truly a success.

The Eagle Mermaids were rewarded for their many hours of hard practice by sporting a slate of seven wins and no defeats. Sally Bartsch was elected the captain of the team, and led the squad into the road of victory.

To Mrs. Smith goes our compliments for capable coaching and fine sportsmanship.

Boys' Swimming

COACH WALTON LANDES started this swimming season in the middle of October in order to get ample practice for the first meet in January. Mr. Landes had two lettermen, Gene Pascucci and Augustus Bono, seven other boys from last year, and seven new boys.

The first meet was home on January 12 with Abington; the Eagles won. The team traveled to George School where they were defeated by a close score. They won the next meet with Upper Darby at home. They traveled to Westtown and after a close meet they were victorious. They lost the next three meets to Pottstown, V. F. M. A., and Coatsville. With the Pottstown meet, they also lost first place in the Suburban League. They went to Eddystone and won by almost a perfect score. The last dual meet was lost to Lancaster. The team, a member of District one swimming league, went to the University of Pennsylvania on February 17 to swim in the District meet; they took second place.

Some of the prominent swimmers were Frank Brouse, 40 yd. freestyle; Jesse Iannone, 100 yd. breaststroke; Richard Strouse, 100 yd. freestyle; Howard Jones, 100 yd. backstroke; Gene Pascucci, 220 yd. freestyle; and Augustus Bono, diving.

Track

COACH LEROY LEWIS started the 1944 track season last March with only five lettermen returning from the previous year. The others were a group of inexperienced sophomores. Add to this a difficult schedule and you have a real problem for any coach to solve. Coach Lewis decided to build his squad around the inexperienced sophomores.

Some individuals responsible for this successful season were Robert Deemer, leading in the quarter mile, Anthony Arena, Ralph Smith, and Charles Baker throwing the shot and discus, Wesley Emerson, pole vaulting, Gus Cotteta, broad jumping, Charles Downes, running the half mile, and Joe Solomito, the mile. Ralph Smith then went on, winning the state championship in the shot put.

With a large group returning, 1945 should be another spectacular season.

1944 Boys' Baseball

UNDER the expert eye of Coach Harvey Fishburn, Norristown High's baseball team won seven of its thirteen games; completing a worthy 1944 season.

The Eagles started their season early in April with a win over Bridgeport but their luck then changed and they lost three straight games, two of them by one run. However the batsmen then proved themselves worthy by defeating the next five teams they faced. After losing a bitterly contested battle to Lower Merion, the team shut out Abington then lost the next two games to complete their season.

Pitchers John Myers and Tom LaSorda with the aid of Charlie Sawyer, Dick Lenzi and Happy Davis helped to make the season a success.

1944 Girls' Tennis

AFTER a year of inactivity, the girls' tennis team again stepped into scholastic competition with a record of one win against three losses and one match ending in a tie.

Lacking the much needed experience, the girls, coached by Miss Dorothy Yanisch, after a few weeks of practice proved that enough enthusiasm for a sport can overcome any obstacle.

Although the opening game of the season was lost to Lansdale with a score of 3 to 5, the girls returned to the courts with more confidence and tied their next opponent Abington 3 to3. After winning over Radnor, the girls brought their 1944 season to a close with two more defeats.

Outstanding skill and ability were continually displayed by Lois Kilpatrick and Doris Hagner. The doubles team of Peggy Logan and Kitty June Stoops was equally outstanding.

With many experienced players returning from the 1944 team, an interesting 1945 season can be expected.

1944 Boys' Tennis

AFTER a year's rest, tennis was again ushered into the Hall of Sports in N. H. S. Coached by Mr. Ernest Youngjohns, a prominent tennis player and citizen of Norristown, the 1944 netmen had a discouraging season winning only one of their eight matches.

The Eagles opened their season by dropping a close match to Westtown. After losing five straight matches, the boys finally came through to win the sixth match at the expense of Abington.

In the doubles' field, Coach Youngjohns developed an outstanding team consisting of Carl Urner and Richard Schweiker which ended the season undefeated. Bob Walsh and Foster Weber were also outstanding in the singles.

With a number of veterans returning the 1945 courtmen expect to better the "44" season's record.

MAY, 1944

Commencement night already! Hard to realize what the halls of N. H. S. will be like without the seniors. Max looked mighty happy when Sam made the presentation. Guess everyone looks forward to the time when we'll be Seniors. Won't be long now!

JUNE, 1944

Happy day! Junior Prom here at last. Never saw the gym look so positively sophisticated, not to mention the affect lent by the gowns and white coats. It's a night we won't forget in a hurry, and the weather was just perfect.

SEPTEMBER, 1944

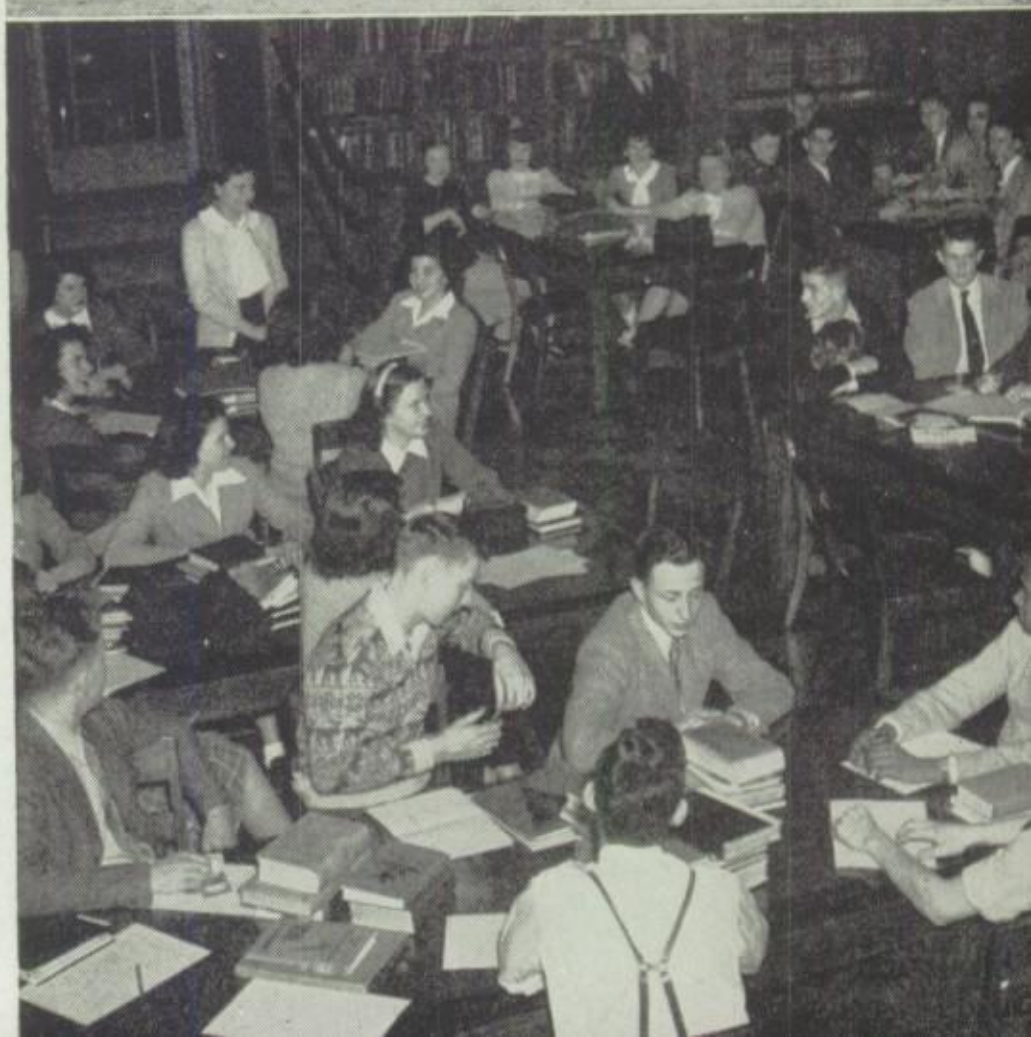
Didn't realize how fast a summer could go! Signs of life are beginning to show up already too! Where those girls get the energy to bang away at a hockey ball in the sun is more than I can make out. They sure deserve all the praise they get. Ah! The joy of sporting a Varsity Hockey Letter! The sheer joy of it!

OCTOBER, 1944

Had the class presentation of trees to the school today. These are planted in memory of the boys who gave their lives in the service of their country. The ceremony was certainly a memorable one and provided plenty of food for thought.

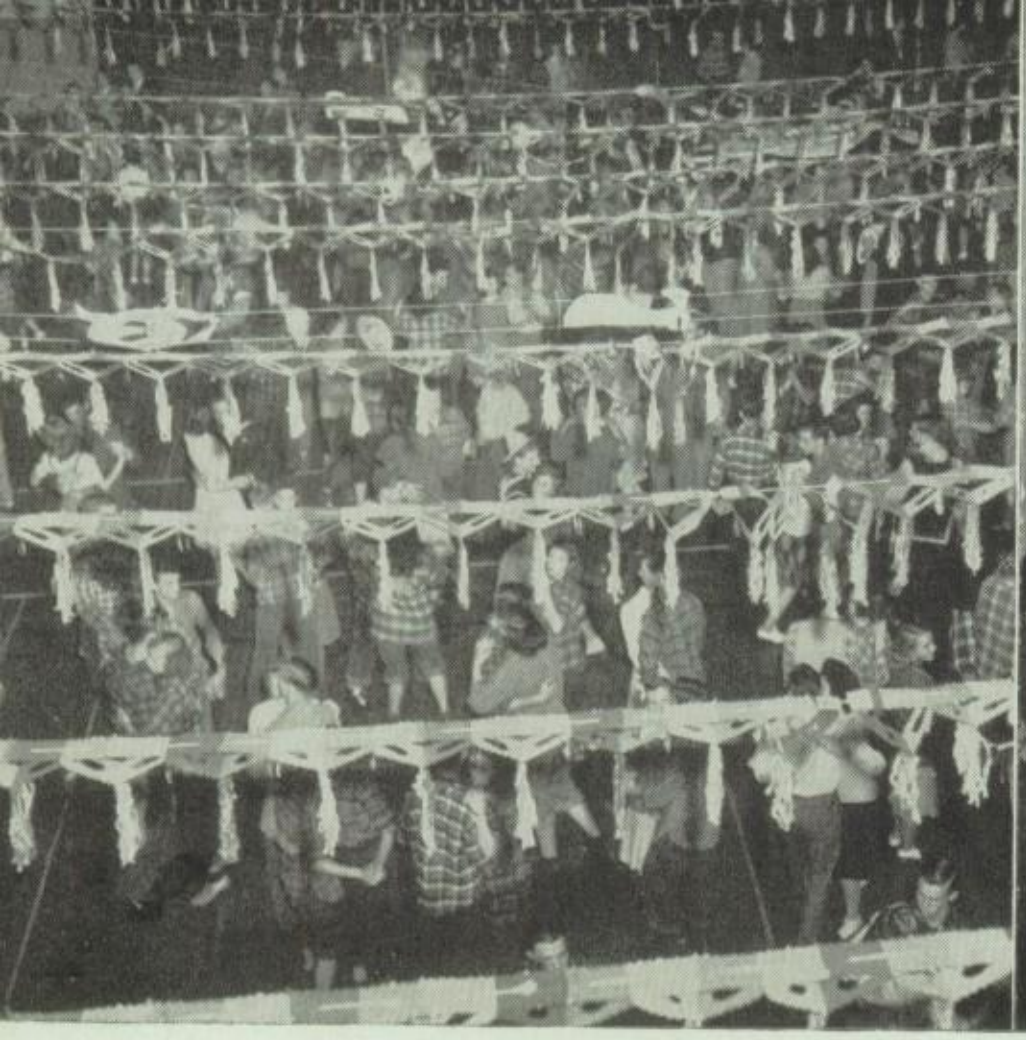
OCTOBER, 1944

Missed it! Golly! I sure hoped he would. What a day! What a game! Don't think a high school could survive without a football team. Sure is the right place to relax after a hard week at school. And when we win there's no limit to the co-operation that we give the cheerleaders.



NOVEMBER, 1944

"My homeroom feels that . . ." Student Council has quite a time reviewing the yeas and nays at their weekly sessions. Their meetings iron out all school difficulties from the dance situation to clean-up week!



December, 1944

Well, Daisy June! Hardly recognized any of the girls in those dungarees; and the boys' shirts—sun glasses would have helped considerably. But what a night of fun. I don't think we'll ever forget Vocational Society for sponsoring such a swell affair. Now let's see—how does that polka go?

January, 1944

Here we are at Christmas time already and the Pageant was nicer than ever. Those tableaux were perfect and the Choir! Ought to be on the radio. But seriously, diary, we really feel proud to say that wonderful choir does belong to us.

January, 1944

Was up till all hours last night. It's those mid-year exams again. And with the best movie you can imagine in town. It never fails. Ah, but it's good for me (I keep telling myself!)

JANUARY, 1945

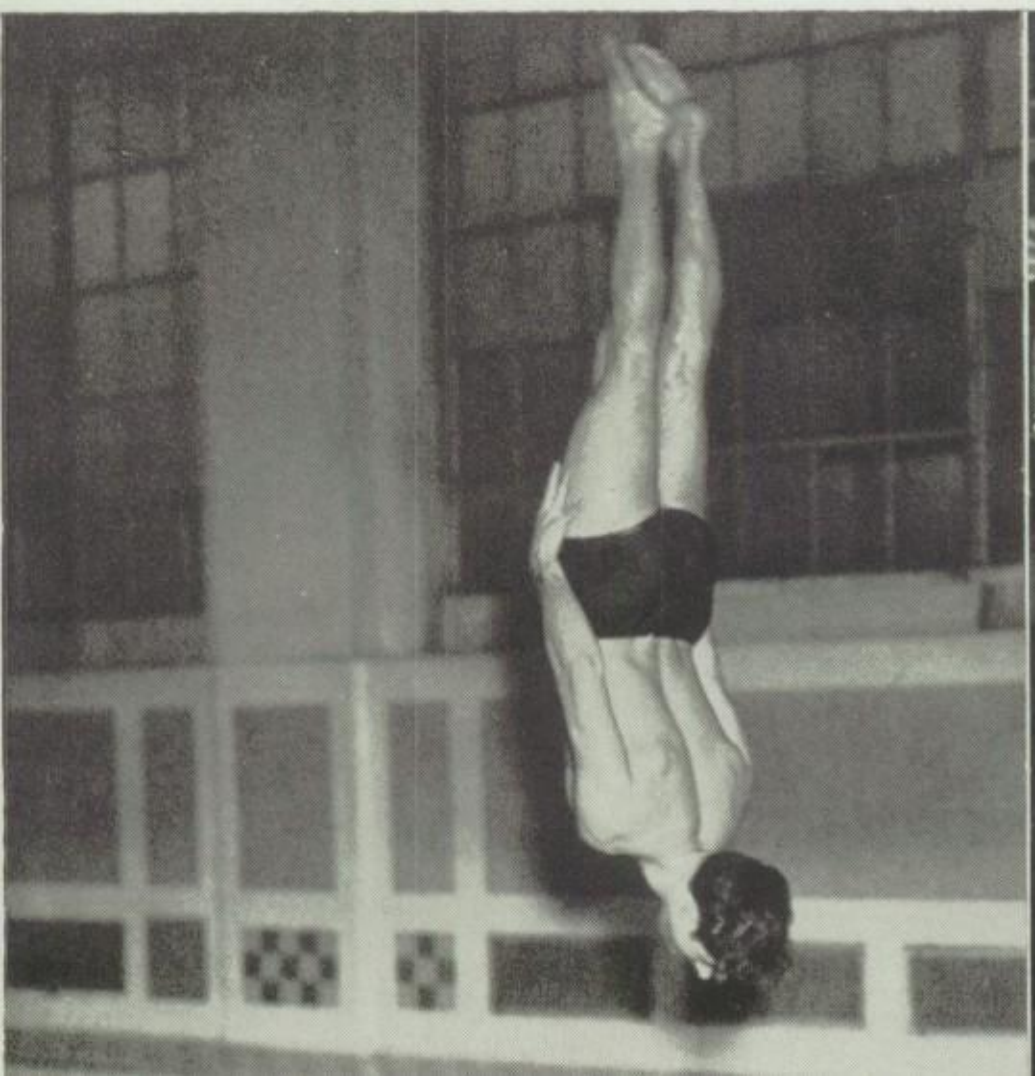
Swimming meets are under way again. Those fellows can really dive too! I'm not sure which I prefer—mermaids or mermen. Just so long as they are from N. H. S., who wants to choose?

FEBRUARY, 1945

There are a lot of people around the school who are sort of unsung heroes. That's what I'd like to call the girls in the office. It sure is handy to have such obliging folks near—like today when I just couldn't handle that mimeograph machine!

FEBRUARY, 1945

Went to color team games after school today and what a time I had! Practically won the game for our team, with those two baskets. Don't think I've had so much fun in a long time. It is one way of keeping us non-professionals in trim.



FEBRUARY, 1945

What a tough game—as if you couldn't see it in Coach Herr's face, and the fellows aren't exactly joyous either. Showing plenty of fight seems to be the thing that holds the team together. But with that certain amount of help from the Student Body—which always means laryngitis for me—we always pull through.

FEBRUARY, 1945

Well, shall I ever live to see such a screwy Senior Assembly? Those Barber Shop scenes were just about the limit. It takes something like this to bring out the humor in the class—and there was a lot of it!

MARCH, 1945

Just got home from a girls' basketball game and it's a wonder I made it. What playing! If I witness just a few more like that one today I'll be a nervous wreck. Honest! Cheese crackers seems to be the only sedative I can find.

March, 1945

Ah food! My favorite period of the day is—you guessed it—Lunch time. But waiting in line just about gets me down. Sometimes I think I shall surely drop from malnutrition if I don't get some nourishment. But, strangely enough, I always survive.

March, 1945

Senior Banquet night and what weather! I felt like singing "Rain, rain go away"!; but my corsage was lovely, the food was delicious and I danced until my feet just couldn't take any more. I can't think of one single thing that went wrong except that I hated to leave.

April, 1945

Our Service Book is in the administration hall now and is it filling up fast. All the fellows who graduated and are in the service, sign it when they visit old N. H. S. It'll be a valuable book in a few years.

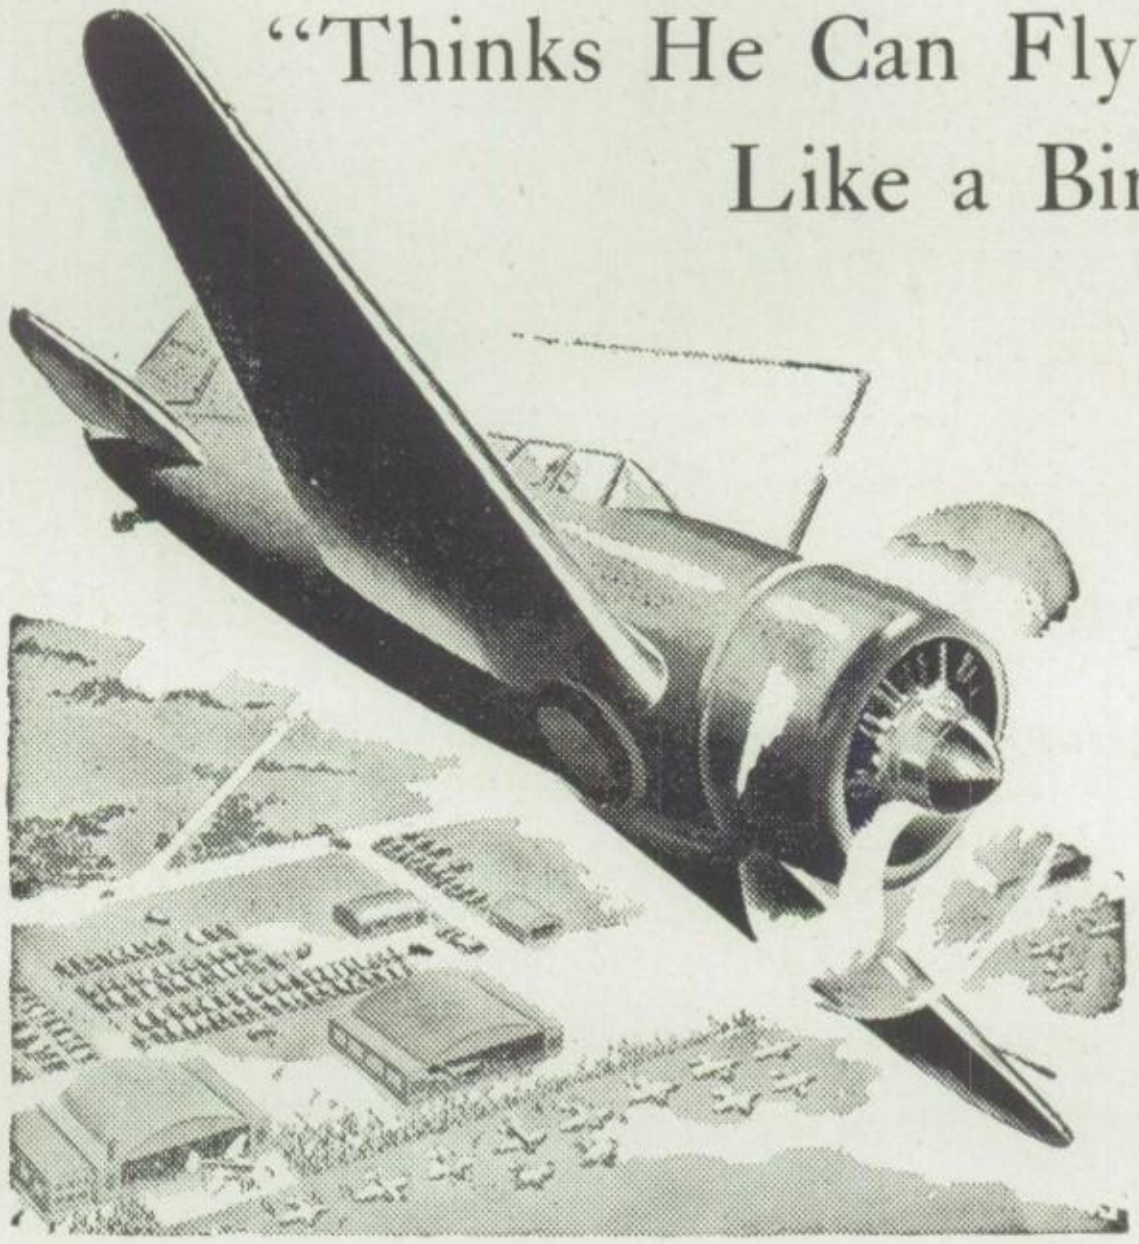
"Thinks He Can Fly Like a Bird"



When the writer of this advertisement played on a baseball team in school, at the conclusion of an out-of-town game the entertaining high school boys asked if we would like to see a guy who "thinks he can fly like a bird." We saw the young man working at a bench in a small shop. "He's nuts," we all agreed.

The next time we heard of Glenn Curtis he had flown the first hydroplane the entire length of Lake Keuka raising his plane above the water several times higher than one's head.

So, in your school days, don't be afraid to have ideas; and later when they need financing, come to the Norristown Penn Trust Company to talk them over.

True, we have many of the large accounts in Norristown, but do not let that scare you for many of them were not large when they started with us.

Don't Choose the "LOWER ROAD"

The "LOWER ROAD" over Life's journey is down grade all the way. It affords easy means of transportation.

There are:—
- Gay and hysterical crowds to cheer you as you pass—
- Bands and orchestras to make music—
- Many mirages and optical illusions to lead you on and there is much "leisure" among the happy-go-lucky wayfarers.

Yes this lower road offers enchantments of a varied nature until you get by the last connecting path to the great "Highway of Progress"—then you become thirsty—you experience hunger for more practical and permanent things—you feel the pang of wasted opportunities and suddenly you are jolted by the husky voice of Failure crying out—

"All off—far as we go."

YOUNG PEOPLE
POST WAR WORLD

WE Americans are a pretty practical people. We have ideals—we believe in them—our men even die for them. But we are not foolish enough to think that victory on the battlefield in the name of these ideals solves everything. Victory and peace will be hollow rewards for those who suffered and fought for them . . . who prayed for them, if courage and character fails at home.

America looks to its youth—to you young people who, next year or a few years hence, will be responsible for all the leadership, vision and spirit of enterprise that a post-war world will demand.

These are important days—days that are calling for all who are not in uniform, especially American youth, to give of their fullest in faith, courage and character.

America has good cause to look hopefully ahead —confident that those who must assume this trust will not fail.

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

TO THE young high school boys and girls of 1945, we extend our greetings and admonition:

Let us hope most of you may be spared any combat military service, although we know you would be willing, yes, glad to offer your all for your country and for the American way of life.

To you the world will look for leadership in the world of tomorrow. Yours will be the responsibility to put into operation, perfect, or change if necessary, the peace plans your fathers we hope will wisely make for you in a few years ahead.

May you dedicate yourselves as you leave your high school to do your part, your best, yes, your all, to make this whole world, not only this country, a peaceful, God-fearing and brother-loving place for all peoples.
